Land Acknowledgement

The Saskatchewan Worker's Compensation Board and its WorkSafe partners acknowledge that they operate within Treaties 2, 4, 5, 6, 8 and 10. These lands are home to and are traditional meeting grounds for many Indigenous peoples, including the Nêhiyawak, Saukteaux, Dene, Dakota, Lakota, Nakoda and homeland of the Métis Nation.

We respect the Treaties that were made on all territories, and we are committed to moving forward in partnership with Indigenous Nations in the spirit of reconciliation and collaboration.

Diversity & Inclusion Statement

The Saskatchewan Workers' Compensation Board and its WorkSafe partners believe and work towards creating, preserving and encouraging a diverse and inclusive environment within the workplace and surrounding communities. We value both diversity and inclusion as a strength and work to unbiasedly support and respect all individuals. It is the belief of our establishment that all people deserve a healthy and safe work environment that ensures everyone's personal well-being. We believe that respecting diverse cultures and people with visible and non-visible disabilities can strengthen our community and create a healthier and safer world.
